Red Cross Notes

Six wool comforters, six pairs of pyjamas, a dozen pairs of pillow cases and a huge box of knitted articles are ready for shipment to Edmonton so the Red Cross workers are not taking any holidays from this work. Hitler is not taking any time off either so the need for work and workers is just as great.

The Red Cross work board was handed the very neat sum of $23.55, proceeds of the dance and quilt raffle held at Sunny Brae school for which they said sincere thanks to the ladies who made the quilt and to all who helped in the success of this undertaking.

In place of the regular quilting next Tuesday (it being a holiday) sewers are asked to meet at the home of Mrs. Longmire Thursday evening to help piece two quilt tops to be ready for quilting the following Tuesday. That will be on July 8th.

What The Air Waves Are Saying Over Station CJCA

KILOCYCLING
(with Frank Johnson)

June 21st, 1941—This morning from Viking came one of the nicest letters we can ever remember receiving. It was from Mr. J. G. Orton, who told us that his niece had recently been married, and that he decided it would be a good idea to donate a sum of money to the Churchill Fund in her name instead of sending her a wedding gift. We were charmed by the letter and thrilled by Mr. Orton's idea, which we thought was a splendid one... thank you again Mr. Orton.

We recently mentioned in this column that Lux Radio Theatre would soon be off the air for the summer. We know the date now—July 7th is the date of the last program until next September 8th when they return again. All of which reminds us that Lou Silvers, musical director of the Radio Theatre, has had his contract renewed until December 31, 1941, making him the oldest musical director, in point of service, of any coast-to-coast program from Hollywood. Lux Radio Theatre comes over CJCA every Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

Russia's entry into the war has been the chief topic of conversation the past week. Germany's attack on Russia must indicate that the Nazis are desperately short of supplies.

The dirt, litter and inconvenience of re-roofing can be avoided by applying the new roof directly over the old shingles.

NEWS OF THE BOYS

Messrs. R. H. Stone, Jas. Stead and Chris Gudmunds who had volunteered for service when Capt. Kelly was in Irma, were called to Edmonton on June 22 for their medical exams. They all passed their medical test but Mr. Stone was rejected on account of his age.

Harold Gulbraa is in training in the R.C.A.F. at Dauphin, Man.

Clarence Carter of the R.C.A.F. at Clarendon spent Saturday, June 21, at his home here, his first visit since leaving last December 17. He returned to his duties on Sunday.

Ralph Lukens, training with the R.C.A.F., visited at home last week-end.

Pte. Lester Mikkelsen was also home on leave last week-end.

Cpl. Art Hockett of Camrose spent last Saturday night and Sunday with his family.

Cpl. M. Wilkinson of Jarrold who is on guard duty at a military camp, visited friends in Irma last Tuesday while home on leave.

Kinsella Stampede Draws Large Crowd

The Kinsella Stampede and Sports were held on Wednesday, June 19, and in spite of rain that made the roads slippery in the forenoon, a large crowd gathered to see the cowboys in action. The sun came out brightly about noon and it wasn't long until the country roads became passable and the events started about 2 p.m.

The stampede grounds are located one mile north and one mile west of the progressive hamlet of Kinsella, a picturesque surroundings on a flat plateau on the O. Olsenberg ranch, making an ideal location for the rough and ready sports of the cowboy and girl. It has all the scenery that any western movie film could desire and all the color besides. Here you will find the real sons and daughters of this great western country, strong, virile and unafraid, engaging in the sports that the prairie folks love best. Hoot Gibson in his heyday, Gene Autry with his singing cowboys and cowgirls, even Dead Eye Dick and his sharpshooters, will find at home in a setting like this. Yes, folks, each and everyone had a good time.

Miss Dorothy Thirkel of Kelsey yodelled some pretty cowboy songs, and to top it off rode a steer or two that kicked up quite a fuss when she gracefully took her bow amidst vociferous applause. Miss Thirkel will attend the Viking Stampede on July 4, and do as much or more than she did at Kinsella.

Following is a list of the winners:

Steer Riding:

1st, Bob Fisher, Hardisty; 2nd M. Mikkelsen, Sedgewick; 3rd, John Nelson, Camrose.

Bronc Riding:

1st, F. Vopps, Hardisty; 2nd Hubert Burke, Clear; 3rd, F. Maltys, Dewberry.

Loose Rope Riding:

1st, B. Brown; 2nd, M. Oviha; 3rd W. McLean.

Calf Roping:

1st, Bud Brooks, Neutral Hills.

WILD Cow Milking:

1st, Ross Hinkley, Hardisty; 2nd G. Nelson, Holden; 3rd, A. Mikkelsen, Kinsella.

In the evening a big dance at Kinsella topped off a most successful day. At the grounds refreshment booths were operated by Mrs. Olsenberg and the Kinsella W.E., and the crowd was well fed.

GROWN IN SUNNY SOUTHERN ONTARIO

Nazi "Christianity"

To-day the people of Canada are permitted to worship God in the manner which conforms to their personal beliefs. That is a heritage which they possess as one of the dearly purchased liberties by their forebears, along with the right to espouse any form of political, economic and social doctrines they may see fit. To-morrow what?

Thousands of people who crossed the broad waters to make this Canada the home of their choice, did so because they valued highly the privilege of religious freedom. What will become of this precious right if the ambition of Hitler and his Nazi hordes is allowed to prevail on this continent? And world domination is Hitler's ultimate objective? It is clearly set forth in Mein Kampf beyond dispute. Even now, he is well on the road pressing towards this goal, and will reach it unless he can be stopped.

It is of vital importance that the people of this country consider well what will happen to them and their cherished liberties, including religious freedom, unless Hitler is stopped in his tracks before it is too late. It is well to contemplate the type of "Christianity" that Canadians will be forced to accept if Hitler's will prevails. It is set forth in a manifesto published in "The National Church," organ of the National Church Union of German Christians, and reads in part as follows:

"For us only one God exists. Who existed from the very beginning of time and Whom we have reached again through National Socialism. We say: In obeying Adolf Hitler, we are obeying our Lord God. Obedience towards God means obedience to the manifestation of his orders through Adolf Hitler. The word Germany is part of our religious faith."

What It Means

There can be no misconception as to the meaning of this manifesto. It means, in effect, that every word uttered by Adolf Hitler, is the word of God, as such, must be implicitly obeyed. It means that Hitler and Germany are the keystones of the spiritual world and those who do not bow to this omnipotent authority must be subjugated and wiped out, for it is obvious that this doctrine and Christianity as we know it cannot exist side by side.

Hitler has announced his determination to dominate the world and to choke this doctrine down the throats of every nation in the world. Those who resist must perish. There is no alternative.

And how is this "Christian" doctrine manifesting itself in actual practice? One has only to look at what is going in the countries already dominated by the Nazis to appreciate what is in store for Canada, if the Nazi religion is permitted to fasten its slimy tentacles around the people of this country. The "Christian" National Socialism of Nazi Germany is partially operating in some of the subjugated countries and in others is in full force and effect.

Poland affords an excellent illustration of the practical application of Nazi Christianity, as the following release from the Polish Information Bureau demonstrates:

"Nazis are driving panic-stricken Poles from their homes in Polish territories now incorporated in the German Reich. The deportations affect all districts, all classes of people. In the districts of Gostynin and Kutno small landowners have been expropriated, landless peasants driven out. Five hundred persons, Polish business men and merchants, were expropriated in Kutno in one night. Children were separated from their parents and taken into the Reich.

"Throughout the most severe part of last winter, deportation from the Pomorze provinces of Lodz and Poznan continued. From the small district of Koscian, 800 peasants were taken to the General Government in cattle trucks. Their journey to Zamosc lasted five weeks during which they received no cooked food and remained endless periods at wayside stations where 40 children

"Out of one single transport of 1,200 Poles from the west to Piotrkow, 226 children died, besides several adults. Only 17 children survived the journey."

That is Nazi "Christianity," with Herr Hitler as the mouthpiece of its God, in action.

Sacrifices Essential

It is true that the full force and severity of Nazi "Christianity" has not yet been applied to some of the other subjugated countries, but that is only because political policy has dictated the wisdom of proceeding more slowly to those countries. If the chains of Hitlerism remained fastened upon them indefinitely, there is no reason to suppose that they, too, will not ultimately feel the full weight of Nazi religious doctrine, unless their peoples are prepared to bow down and worship the Nazi God.

Is there any reason to suppose that the same fate is not in store for Canadians, when the time comes? And the time will come, unless the people of this country are willing to sacrifice to the limit temporarily.

Big Business

A six-foot five soldier stepped up to a shoe-shining stand and called: "Shine, please, boy!"

The bootblack looked down at the vast expanse of boots before him and shook his head questioningly. Then a determined look covered his face. "Hey, Bert," he called to another boy, "Gimme a hand!" I've got an army contract!"

A writer in a daily paper expresses his fear of a sudden German invasion of Elre. This is premature. Hitler hasn't even signed a pact of non-aggression with De Valera yet.

Not Superstitious

On (Friday the 13th), Marjorie Smith gave up Iowa driver's licence No. 13. She says she isn't superstitious, but since obtaining the license two years ago she figured in two auto accidents; underwent two operations; suffered extensive burns on one arm while cooking; lost some valuables when her apartment was entered and robbed.

A lot of schools and universities are putting on classes in citizenship, but if you read the papers every day, pay your taxes and keep smiling you will graduate.

The Only Question

Is How Long Strength Of Nazi Machine Will Last

While you should not underestimate Hitler, you need not overrate him either. His strength is going. His power is on the wane. He is destined for extermination just as surely as any rat that runs along the street gutter. The only question is how long?

This can be a short war or a very long one. It depends on us. It depends entirely on the force and speed with which we hit him now in the place where he is vulnerable.

And the most vulnerable place is Germany. Every German killed in Germany in the next few weeks will spread far greater terror than a thousand German slain in the Balkans or even in the Atlantic.

Every factory, every house tumbled down in a German town is an omen of defeat. Every bomb that crashes in a street will sound like the crack of doom.

Remember that all middle-aged and elderly people in Germany to-day know what defeat means. They remember the awful days of the early twenties. Many of them know what it means to be plunged from comfort to complete destitution in a day and to be driven from a well-laden table to subsist on acorns in woods.

If Germans can suddenly be made to realize that instead of victory, instead of the conquest of the world, defeat is once more possible, crashing, complete defeat, we may well see such a wave of terror sweep across the reich as has no parallel in human history.

For the Germans to-day know that there is no forgiveness this time. They are not the Herrenfolk but the hated folk. They know that the wrath that will rise when Poles, Norwegians, Czechs, Dutch, Belgians, and even British are let loose among them will take some assuaging. All sane Germans know that they are going to be the pariah dogs of civilization for the next generation.

It is our business now to make that fear work for us by turning it into hate for the men who brought them to such a terrible fate. To make them realize that the way to mercy for themselves is for them to destroy the destroyers.—London Sunday Express.

Efficiency Is Uncanny

Machine Invented By U.S. Statisticians Compiles Census Records

The census was pretty much of a hit-or-miss affair in its infancy. To-day, however, the modern, uncanny efficiency of the machine has been called upon to iron out, as far as possible, the factor of human error.

Slowness of census compilation inspired Dr. Hollerith, a statistician employed in the United States' census of 1880, to invent a punched card system of sorting and tabulating. First used in the census of 1890 in the U.S., it showed that it saved a quarter of the time in transcribing records and was eight times faster than any system of hand tabulation.

Machines were first used in Canada in the census of 1911 and by 1931 experiments conducted by the Bureau of Statistics had resulted in development of a combined sorter-tabulator especially fitted to compile and analyze census data. These machines have been improved still further since 1931.

For this census there will be six machines—each handling 40 columns of facts, while in 1931 there were four machines handling 24 columns. One of the most amazing machines to be used is the electric verifier, which checks upon the accuracy of information punched on the cards. It throws out automatically cards containing inconsistent facts; for instance, married and of too low an age for this to be possible, resident in Canada less than five years and naturalized, etc. "Amazingly enough" states the bank pamphlet, "it will reject a card which records that a married woman living with her husband is the 'head of the family,' for this is inconsistent with census definitions."

Still At Old Stand

English Firm Has Been In Business For 156 Years

A. R. Baker straightened his six foot one inch frame of English dignity to its fullest and told Montreal newsmen with quiet emphasis: "My firm has been in business since 1785 and we're certainly not going to let a blitz interfere with it now."

His office near St. Paul's Cathedral in the heart of London, had been lucky. "We are now fairly isolated, the adjoining buildings having been blitzed, but we are able to carry on."

Cansels have eight toes, two on each foot.

Blitz Buggy

Light Armored Scout Car Has Speed Up To 80 Miles An Hour.

The Canadian army is studying one of the most terrifying adaptations of the internal combustion engine to warfare that can be imagined. It is the light, armored scout car with speed up to 80 miles per hour. This car would certainly supersede the motorcycle, shock troops developed by the German army to cut the Polish and French armies loose from their moorings in earlier campaigns of this war.

The Canadian army, we found, has its eyes on two types, the American scout and reconnaissance car and the British Daimler scout car. A group of parliamentarians saw both types of combat car during a visit to Petawawa Camp recently. A low little United States scout car went through its paces over a tough, rough range dotted with thickets, while the visitors watched from a nearby hillside. It stole the show, and the members of Parliament came away talking, like the officer of Petawawa, in very affectionate terms of the "blitz buggy."

Later the blitz buggy was demonstrated in a sand pit, and Hon. J. L. Hatfield and F. D. MacKenzie Nepeawa M.P. went aboard as passengers. This is something to watch for in the news reels, but what the movies have taken of the blitz buggy at Petawawa will not show is how terrifying it would be coming at full speed against you, if you happened to be a German soldier on guard at some vital point.

The blitz buggy is not an automobile. It is a projectile. By B.T.R. in the Winnipeg Free Press.

Having A Tough Time

Dogs In England Are Eating Queer Kind Of Food

He is having a tough time. Serious as the shortage of food has been for English men, women and children, it has been much more serious for the unfortunate dog. Here is a recipe for dog food, taken from the "Dogs' Bulletin," the journal of the National Canine Defence League: "Wash and cut up peels of root vegetables and outer leaves of greens; stew gently in enough water to cover until tender; the addition of a bone or two, or a lump of dripping, is an improvement. Add enough coarse oatmeal to thicken, and stir well for a minute or so over the fire." Over 100,000 people have already written for the recipe and are trying to keep their four-footed friend, the dog, from too much hunger.—Our Dumb Animals.

Bomb Battered Britons Are Strong For Good Music

Jack Hyllon, British jazz band leader, is selling the public classical music—much of it German—and bomb-battered Britons are shouting for more. Hyllon recently took the aristocratic London Philharmonic orchestra on a round of the provinces, playing vaudeville and moving picture theatres in two-night stands. On its return to the capital the orchestra played in music halls—something never done before.

The orchestra, directed by Dr. Malcolm Sargent, now gives concerts at the Coliseum—a music hall, or vaudeville house—into which crowds of Londoners pack each night.

DAUGHTER OF DESTINY

—BY—

Eleanor Atterbury Colton

CHAPTER XII.

The sun was already high, a scalding light set directly overhead, when Devona and Dale rode back across the mesa on mounts weary and doleful enough now.

"Darling, let's not go right back to the house," Dale suggested as they came over a canyon's rim where they could see the green-flowing oasis that was Palm Springs spilled into the little valley below. "I don't want to share you with any one—not yet. Can't we have this day just to ourselves?"

"Yes—let's." Devona smiled happily, still scarcely aware that there was a real world to go back to, everyday problems to solve.

Dale sent their tired horses back to the stables by means of a smiling Mexican lad and a silver coin. Then, aimlessly, hand-in-hand, they wandered through Palm Springs' little curio shops where dark-eyed Mexican girls tried to sell them everything from serapes to hammered silver souvenirs.

"The Senora will like this, Senor," one shy, dark-eyed girl insisted, holding an exquisitely intricate silver locket in the palm of her hand.

Dale grinned, turned to her. "How about it—Senora?" he teased.

Flushing, Devona tried to pretend unconcern. "It's very lovely. But not half so lovely as this playing at being Dale's wife. Just make-believe now, for fun, of course. But some day—"

Her heart beat so hard it made her hands tremble as she picked up the lovely locket, pretended to examine it closely.

"Put it on, darling," Dale insisted, snapped the fastener around her neck himself when she demurred. "Like it?"

She nodded. "But Dale, please—I didn't like it," she teased.

"I like it, too," and calmly laid green bills on the counter.

"Dale—please. You mustn't—" Her fingers fumbled with the slender clasp.

"And why not?" He caught her hands, held them prisoner. "If I want to buy you something to remember this day by, why shouldn't I?"

As if she'd need anything to make her remember this day, Devona thought, smiling. But she didn't have a chance to tell him that. The Mexican shopkeeper was back now with the change.

"Dale?" Vara looked at her steadily. "I see."

"Mother—Vara, I mean—I came to tell you something—I—" Her tongue tripped awkwardly over the thrilling news.

"Tell me first why you insist on tagging Dale around all day."

"I wasn't. I mean—we rode out on the mesa and then I—"

In the face of her mother's cool little smile, Devona felt enthusiasm and confidence ebbing swiftly.

"Well—"

"You needn't bother about me any more, Vara. About my career or anything, I mean. You see, I'm going to marry Dale. You see, he's blurted it out."

For an instant Vara just looked at her. Then, with ominous quiet, "You are going to marry whom?"

"Dale. We found it out to-day. That we love each other, I mean."

Trembling, she sat down on the edge of a chair, torturing her riding gloves as she waited for Vara's approval. Naturally her mother would be glad to have everything solved this easily.

"Are you sure?" The question came cool and sharp as a stiletto thrust.

"But—of course. He loves me. We—"

Vara calmly lit a cigarette. "Did he set the date for the wedding?"

"Oh, no. Not yet. We just—"

"Did he ask you—in so many words—to be his wife?" Vara's gray eyes were leveled at her, her insinuation only too clear.

"Why—" Devona hesitated. He hadn't actually said—but, of course—he'd meant—

"I thought so," Vara went on smoothly.

"But—he said he loved me, wanted never to lose me—" Desperately she thought back through the long, glorious day, remembering his exact words, his—

"Believe me, dear, when I tell you to put Dale Brasher out of your mind," she went on quietly. "I'm only sparing you suffering. And now—" with sudden bright cheerfulness—

"I have really good news for you." Devona just looked at her, mute, stricken.

Bishop Asks Question

Who Will Ring Bells in Britain

When Invasion Comes

A ringing question forced Britain to-day amid swelling talk of invasion in high places and low.

"Who," the Bishop of Chelmsford wants to know, "is going to ring the bells which are supposed to tell the populace that invasion has begun?"

Soldiers are busy digging fresh trenches in the Park and are getting new barbed wire to fortify almost every bush and tree, but the Bishop's pious is perplexing lots of persons.

It's this way: Britain's churches are locked at night. Comes the invader. What happens? Some persons have got to get the key, which usually is kept at the rectory. The rectory often is some distance, perhaps miles, from the church.

Suppose panting Paul Revere reach the rectory. Comes more confusion. Parson must be roused.

Suppose the parson hasn't got the key. He must refer one to the vergier, who must be found, awakened and asked for the key.

In any event, the vergier, or more expert bell-ringer, should be on hand ringing the bells because church bell-ringing is not like ringing a dinner bell, experts point out, and an amateur might crack the bell or jam the clapper.

Some solutions suggested include: 1. Furnish the home guards with skeleton keys to the churches and give them a little instruction in proper bell ringing technique.

2. Substitute rockets for bells.

A Refreshing Story

How The Australian Prime Minister Handled A Snob

While at Plymouth I was told by local pressmen a refreshing story of Mr. Menzies, the Australian premier.

During a recent visit to military stations in the West Country he was accompanied by a superlatively officious official who did not conceal his loathing for the press and tried hard to keep accredited newspapermen out of sight.

At last Mr. Menzies, having discovered what was happening, called the reporters to him and proceeded to give them a long and interesting personal talk on his morning's experience.

The exasperated official stood this improperly for a few minutes. Then, his irritation overcoming his politeness and good judgment, he marched up to Mr. Menzies and said sternly: "Excuse me, sir, your lunch is waiting."

Mr. Menzies turned towards him, looked him coldly up and down for some seconds, and observed with slow deliberation: "Push off. You must have seen that I am engaged in an important interview with the press. Push off."

And with this remark and a vast sweep of the arm, Mr. Menzies blotted the official out of the landscape. He did not reappear.

I like the story very much. It is, of course, entirely unattractive and true. —London News Chronicle.

Could See Ahead

The village of Arthur in Wellington county, Ont., had its Victory Loan quota attended to on the first day at 10 o'clock in the morning. That place is also known as the home of a newspaper whose editor is blind, but the editor and all his neighbors were able to see straight and well and far ahead on this occasion.

Construction of the British Houses of Parliament required 20 years.

X-Ray Examination

To Be Given To All Soldiers On Their Discharge

Dr. G. P. Wherrett, of Ottawa, executive secretary of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, said in his report of the association's annual meeting that all members of the armed forces will be given an X-ray examination on discharge.

This precautionary measure was expected to clear up many difficulties as to pension claims which had been so hard to solve since the last war. Dr. Wherrett believed that claims could be more fairly judged with an X-ray film of the soldier on attestation, and another one on discharge.

Tuberculosis had not been able to impede Canada's war effort in the same way that it did during the First Great War because of the anti-tuberculosis work accomplished in recent years.

"At this stage of the First Great War the problem of tuberculosis was assuming alarming proportions," he said. "Hundreds of men were in hospitals and returning from overseas with tuberculosis."

Dr. J. A. Jarry, of Montreal, in his presidential address, said that upwards of 2,000 Canadian men have been found unfit for military service because of an old or present tuberculosis. This represented an incidence of 1.4 per cent.

Just Conquered Land

Slovakians Have No Illusions About Status Under Nazi Rule

More than 800 pilots and observers have been transferred from "independent" Slovakia's air force into the German Luftwaffe under decree of Premier Tuka, Berlin's puppet in Bratislava. At the same time a number of Slovak anti-aircraft units have been distributed in small groups among German army units.

The move was made without Slovakia's diet being consulted or informed. It represents for Slovakians the shattering of their last illusion that the nation set up by the Germans as "independent" is anything more than another conquered land to be Nazi-exploited.

Many of Slovakia's state-owned oil wells, early appropriated by the Nazis, are reported running dry because of intense exploitation. In several instances, production was stepped up to three times original yield. —Cleveland Press.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

NATIONS

A nation is the unity of a people. —Coleridge.

A state to prosper, must be built on foundations of a moral character; and this character is the principal element of its strength and the only guaranty of its permanence and prosperity. —Jabez Curry.

The commandments of God are the bread of life for the nations. —Ruswell D. Hitchcock.

God is Father, infinite, and this great truth, when understood in its divine metaphysics, will establish the brotherhood of man, and war, and demonstrate "on earth peace, good will toward men." —Mary Baker Eddy.

The true grandeur of nations is in those qualities which constitute the true greatness of the individual. —Charles Sumner.

Until nations are generous they will never be wise; true policy is generous policy; all bitterness, selfishness, may gain small ends, but lose great ones. —Washington Irving.

Just Overlooked

Herr Hitler is reported ready to proclaim a "United States of Europe" and to announce that, since German war aims have been accomplished, he has no reason to continue the war. The war aim of conquering England must have been accomplished when we weren't looking, says the Buffalo Courier-Express.

Southern Courtesy

Southern courtesy isn't dead yet. Members of a union were picketing a store in Memphis, Tenn., in a heavy rain, when up drove a woman customer. One of the pickets broke formation to escort her with his umbrella into the store he was picketing.

Hitler never stops to debate whether or not his crimes are sincere. Official Nazi comment comes with the ring of the executioner's axe, followed by deep silence.

LEARN GOOD TENNIS FORM TO SHINE ON THE COURTS

Develop Expert Footwork

How discouraging, when you'd like to play tennis well, to be always missing the ball, to appear the incurable dud!

But cheer up! By practicing with the right instructions you can improve your form, learn to play a top-notch game.

When balls are missed or "focussed," the trouble often is poor footwork. Never turn and run at a ball unless you cannot reach it otherwise. You may end up off balance, with feet tangled.

To keep balanced, in a position from which you can hit hard and accurately, learn to "two-step" toward the ball.

Suppose your opponent's shot is coming toward your forehand, a little ahead of you. Step forward with your left foot always ahead, your right foot dragging after—as our diagram shows.

If the shot were coming to your backhand, you would "two-step" toward it in the same way, but with the right foot leading.

Other phases of tennis are as simple to master—and you can make a hit this Summer with your fast accurate game. Our 32-page booklet by George Agutter teaches the serve, forehand, backhand, lob, volley, cut strokes. Gives expert advice on footwork, tactics, practicing.

Over a cup of tea the two charlatans were discussing the persons they "did for."

"Then there's Mrs. 'Arris," said the one in the purple jumper. "Oh, my dear, 'er floors—you'd sever believe! When I first started to oblige 'er they was awful!"

She took a sip of tea and, wiped her mouth on a purple sleeve.

"Now," she went on proudly—"now I've bin polishing 'em, three or 'er lady friends as bin an broke 'er legs."

Conditions In Poland

The British Broadcasting Corporation said that an average of 450 persons died every day during May in Warsaw because of lack of food, while at the same time the Germans published lists of food and other materials they had taken from Poland.

We think we now have proof that borrowing is a very old custom. The Chinese had umbrellas three thousand years ago.

URGES IMMEDIATE VACCINATION AGAINST DREAD HORSE DISEASE

A severe outbreak of encephalomyelitis is now raging in Texas, and fears have been expressed that the epidemic will spread rapidly northwards. In 1929, between 15,000 and 14,000 horses in Saskatchewan died of this disease, and it is the opinion of Dr. J. S. Fulton, head of the veterinary science department of the university of Saskatchewan that valuable horses in this province should be vaccinated immediately.

"Farmers who neglect to vaccinate their valuable horses now are acting foolishly," Doctor Fulton has advised the Western Producer. He explained that stocks of chick vaccine were limited at the present time, and that much of the vaccine now available was too old to be reliable.

"Should a sudden outbreak such as the 1928 epidemic, occur, there would be an acute shortage of vaccine, and the same state of panic which prevailed amongst farmers that year would probably ensue, Dr. Fulton warned.

Two factors have contributed to the present shortage of chick vaccine on the prairies, Dr. Fulton explains. First of these is that farmers have neglected to take the advice of scientists and to vaccinate their horses each spring in order to prevent a serious outbreak of the disease.

Although the university of Saskatchewan has a small supply of chick vaccine on hand—about 50,000 doses—the institution has not the funds to manufacture larger amounts of the vaccine which would be necessary in case of a severe outbreak, unless there is a ready market for the vaccine.

The second factor is that a new type of vaccine has been developed in the United States. It is a type which must be injected intradermally, or between the under layers of the skin. The average farmer would not be able to administer the injection as he could with the subcutaneous vaccine, which is injected through the skin and into the flesh of the animal.

American manufacturers have decided to make the new type of vaccine for use in the United States and to make only a small supply of the old vaccine for use in western Canada.

Chick vaccine is one of the most effective preventatives known to science. It gives absolute protection to horses from encephalomyelitis. If farmers decided to vaccinate their horses every year for several years, the disease itself would, in all probability disappear, Dr. Fulton has said.

The protection of horses against this disease, important as it is, is not the only advantage to be secured by vaccination, however. In recent epidemics, it has been found that human beings have also been brought down with encephalomyelitis in Saskatchewan, and some of these have died.

Most of the cases of encephalomyelitis in humans have occurred in districts where there were heavy outbreaks of the disease amongst horses, and medical men suspect that humans get this ailment from infected horses.

It is believed that the danger of human contagion can be stopped by preventing outbreaks of encephalomyelitis amongst horses, and that vaccination, therefore, has a twofold advantage: protection of the public health as well as the protection of horses.

"I would advise most strongly that farmers with valuable horses should not neglect to vaccinate them immediately," Dr. Fulton asserts.
